-About three o'clock Sunday morning a burglar entered the residence of Mr. Reise, on Poplar street, and, not content with stealing an overcost, which he immediately put on, went up stairs for further booty. The burglar had en-tered Mr. Reise's sleeping-room and seized his watch, when Mrs. Reise, hearing a noise, said to her husband, "There is a rat in the room." Mr. Reise arose and seeing the form of a man crouching upon the floor and moving steadily toward the door, sprang out of bed, and seized the burglar. A scufile ensued, but the burglar managed to reach the head of the stairway and swung over the railing in order to escape. By this time a young man who had been sleeping in an adjoining room, came to the assistance of Mr. Reise, who had the burglar by the neck as his form was halfway over the railing. The young man dealt the thief a number of blows on the head, but owing to the button of the overcoat breaking, the rascal slipped out of the garment and fell head-forement upon the floor. Regaining his feet, the burglar fled through the window by which he had entered, taking the chair.

THE MASS-MEETING.

What the Ledger and the Avalanche ha e to Say about it.

Evening Ledger, of Yesterday. An unusually large, as well as orderly and harmonious, meeting was held at the Greenlaw Operhouse Saturday night to appoint a city executive Democratic meeting, which was done without unnecessary de'ny, and the mee ing im-mediately adjourned. The committee is composed of well-known citizens, who are competent to conduct a campaign. The movement is in the hands of the people entirely, and we shall attempt neither to hamper it with suggestions nor anticipate it; action. If, however, the people manifest as much interest in the primary meetings and the convention as in the origin of the new move-ment, they can trust to the results. It is not to be presumed that every one ward & Moore, manufacturers and wholesale dealers in Robertson county whisky, and proprietors of the females. citizens shows that the people are slive to their interests, and will rigidly scru-tinize every public step taken toward the municipal election. They are not so much concerned as to whether this or that man shall draw the mayor's salary, but as to how their affairs are to be administered for the next two years. It remains to be seen what sort of men will be elected delegates and who will be nominated for mayor.

The Democratic meeting of last night, moderate in its results than we expected from the exclusive tone of the call limiting membership only to Democrats, and more conservative than the action of the eighth ward meeting, which points to a reorganization of the old order of things when the party whip was cracked furiously on every corner; when P. M. Winters was a high priest in the party and O'Donnell its representative. The general conduct of the meeting was directed by good sense, and animated by a spirit to do the best for the city. The policy of conducting the municipal canvass on a party basis, with party candidates, to get possession of the city by mere partisan leaders, is unwise, and will be bad in its results to the commercial, mechanical and financial interests of Memphis. There is no reasonable cause at this time for a party movement, and we hope the good sense of the executive committee, which is composed of good members, IF THEY WILL SERVE will recommend an enlargement of the movement, to embrace all who desire good government, and thus place the candidate, if successful, beyond the reach of obligations to cliques or rings, in or out of the party, that cannot be ignored, and quet at the Peabody hotel.
